CHAMBERLAIN, HITLER MEET; THEN RECESS

Will Continue Their Conversations in Godesberg Friday

Godesberg, Germany, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler and Neville Chamberlain discussed changes in the map of Europe for more than 10 hours today and parted with promises to continue their talks tomorrow.

The British prime minister, who had come to this Rhineland town for his second conference in a week with the German fuhrer in search of assurances for Europe's peace, left Hitler's hotel at 7:15 P. M. (12:15 P. M., C. S. T.).

They had been in conference since 4 P. M. when Chamberlain reached the hotel Dreesen, Hitler's headquarters, having flown from London to Cologne, motored to Petersberg and then ferried across the Rhine.

At first the two met alone except for two interpreters to discuss especially the fate of Czechoslovakia, to whose partitioning at Hitler's request Britain and France had agreed.

The British prime minister reached the conference scene after a 20-minute ferry trip across the Rhine from his own hotel at Petersberg.

A black-uniformed drum corps beat a salute and blackshirt elite guards presented arms with bayonets fixed as Chamberlain left his hotel at 3:37 P. M. (8:37 A. M., C. S. T.). He had arrived there two hours earlier, having flown from London to Cologne and motored the rest of the way.

Nazi salutes greeted him even as he descended the hotel's grand staircase. There officials, guests and uniformed guards shouted as he hurried down a long length of carpet to a waiting open automobile. Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin, followed behind him, chewing his cigar.

Route Lined With Troops
Chamberlain entered the first car and Sir Neville the second. The British motored down to Koenigswinter for the ferry to Godesberg. The whole length of the winding road down the mountain was lined with brown-uniformed troops.

The people of Koenigswinter seemed in a holiday mood. Big swastika flags and smaller union jacks flapped from flagpoles.

Even as the conference in Hotel Dreesen began there were reports the German fuhrer had raised his price for peace. The Berlin press indicated that even the Anglo-French proposals to which Czechoslovakia was compelled to bow yesterday, might no longer meet Hitler's desires.

Nevertheless Chamberlain was represented as hoping to settle Europe's most pressing problems on a peaceful basis.

Greeting Was Warm
Hitler's greeting was warm as the two leaders met on the hotel veranda, while the guard of honor gave a musical salute.

The German fuhrer, who had arrived by train from Munich at 10 A. M., spent the morning inspecting the Rhine steamer "Hansestadt Koeln," moored directly under his hotel. He lunched on the hotel's Rhine terrace with General Wilhelm Keitel and leaders of western Germany's Nazi formations.

At Cologne, Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, Ernst von Weizsaecker, state secretary for foreign affairs, and Dr. Herbert von Krosigk, German ambassador to London, greeted the British premier.

He entered his car to the strains of "God Save the King."

At his Petersberg hotel he bade Von Ribbentrop goodbye, then went through the doorway with Baron von Doernberg, German protocol chief. Von Ribbentrop sped across the river to report to his chief.

In Good Humor
Chamberlain seemed in extraordinary good humor. He said his flight from London to Cologne was particularly interesting because the plane flew so low he could study the "simply beautiful" scenery.

The warm reception given him by the German population, he said, was deeply impressive.

Visits of Hungarian and Polish statesmen with Hitler at Obersalzberg Tuesday led to belief Hitler might insist that minorities of these two countries in

Aerial Campaign

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—An airplane equipped with a loud-speaker joined the campaign caravan today of Richard J. Lyons, Republican senatorial nominee who has been touring the state in a white trailer.

The plane, bearing "Vote Republican" signs, was engaged to fly over downstate cities, announcing the mass meetings at which Lyons is to speak.

Mayor Jack Van Buren of Villa Park and W. M. Solberg, former navy aviator, are the pilots. They said the loud-speaker system could be heard for a radius of five miles from an altitude of 1,500 to 500 feet.

CZECH SOLUTION DISPLEASES THE FRENCH CABINET

Paris, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier was faced today with a threatened revolt in his cabinet against the French-British peace plan which won from Czechoslovakia an agreement to surrender Sudetenland to Adolf Hitler.

Rapid developments last night caused some observers to believe the cabinet might break up at any moment as a result of pressure Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet exerted on France's little central European ally.

The names of nine of the 18 cabinet members were mentioned as more or less resolved to take action in protest. They were:

Paul Reynaud, minister of justice; Georges Mandel, minister of colonies; Jean Zay, minister of education; Cesar Campinchi, minister of navy; Louis de Chappedaine, minister of merchant marine; Auguste Champetier de Ribes, minister of pensions; Henri Queuille, minister of agriculture; Raymond Patenotre, minister of national economy and production; and Marc Rucart, minister of public health.

The consent of these ministers was said to have been won reluctantly to the "unanimous" cabinet approval of the French-British plan on the condition pressure brought to bear on Czechoslovakia would not include a threat to stand aside and watch her invaded by Germany.

Some political sources said they considered Daladier violated that promise yesterday by sending such a threat to Prague in the form of a virtual ultimatum.

Plan Resumption of North Shore Line

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson authorized receiver A. A. Sprague today to negotiate a labor contract looking toward resumption of service on the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee electric railroad, idle since Aug. 16.

The court set October 5 as the deadline for completing negotiations with the amalgamated association of street, electric railway and motor coach employes, an A. F. of L. affiliate which the court order designated as the sole bargaining agent.

First Consignment Of Corn Is Received

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The first carload of new crop corn to reach Chicago this season, a consignment from Vincennes, Ind., to George E. Wegener of the Chicago Board of Trade, was auctioned on the floor of the exchange today by Barnett Faroll, first vice president.

The corn, which graded No. 5 yellow, 23 per cent moisture, and weighed 52 pounds, was bought by D. Howard Lipsey for the Norris Grain Co., at the top bid of 46 1/2 cents a bushel.

Important Cases Placed on Trial at September Term of Circuit Court

One of the heaviest dockets of cases to be tried before the Lee county Circuit court in years, appears on the trial list for the September term, which has been called by Judge Albert Manus of Freeport, who will preside during the term. A large number of the cases docketed are for trial before a jury and the panel of petit jurors has been ordered to report at 9:30 on the morning of Sept. 29. Following is the trial list for the term:

Trials Before Jury
Sept. 29—Frank C. Doran vs. Joseph B. Cook, et al.
Oct. 3—L. E. Etnyre vs. William L. Loftus, administrator.
Oct. 4—Leonard A. Fisher vs. George Zimmerman.
Oct. 5—Mary and Fred Scott vs. Bernard Eden.
Rudy March vs. Lucille Bock.

McKAY AND COX HELD ON ARMED ROBBERY COUNT

Fugitives From Vandalia Admit Holdups in Northern Illinois

Hugh McKay, III, 23, of Polo, formerly of Dixon, and Eugene Cox, 19, fugitives from the Illinois prison farm at Vandalia, who were captured near Seward early Wednesday morning after a five hour man hunt in which about 75 Winnebago and Stephenson county deputies, Rockford and Freeport city police and state police participated, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Howard Hicks in Rockford late Wednesday afternoon, and when they waived preliminary examination, were bound over to the Winnebago county grand jury under $5,000 bonds each. They are charged with armed robbery, the outcome of their holding up the Buchanan service station at Rockton shortly after midnight Wednesday morning.

According to Assistant State's Attorney Fred Kullberg of Winnebago county McKay and Cox confessed staging two armed robberies in Winnebago county Tuesday night, and one west of Freeport, in Stephenson county, Monday night.

The pair was taken off an Illinois Central freight train a mile west of Seward at 6:20 o'clock yesterday morning by deputy sheriffs from Winnebago and Stephenson counties and state police officers after Clifford Paul, a Stephenson county deputy, and

Stranger is Taken On Defraud Charge

William A. Henderson, a stranger in Dixon, was taken in custody by police on Sept. 18, charged with issuing checks to defraud. An information was filed in the county court and it was not until Saturday morning that he could be arraigned. With a promise to make restitution, if permitted 30 days time, Henderson was placed on probation and departed.

This morning, Chief Van Bibber received a communication from the chief of police at Joliet, seeking Henderson, the letter stating that he was wanted in that city for the same offense. When arrested here, Chief Van Bibber finger printed the prisoner and when the case was disposed of in court, forwarded the chart to the state criminal prevention bureau at Springfield. The reply from this source brought the information that Henderson had served a six months sentence in the state work farm at Vandalia, having been sentenced from Joliet. His present whereabouts are unknown to the police.

CUBS 4, PHILLIES 0

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Bill Lee won his 20th game of the season today, pitching the Chicago Cubs to a 4-0 victory over the Phillies in the first game of a double-header. Bill Atwood of the Phils was banished in the seventh inning for protesting a play at the plate.

A Gasp; a Sigh

Kansas City, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The telephone in a local hospital buzzed. An excited feminine voice gasped: "I'm losing my breath—may need a pulmonologist. . . . Get me out quick!"

There was a half-minute pause. Then came a sigh.

"Skip it," said the voice, "I just got out of my new corset."

Job for Charlie

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Wooden-headed Charlie McCarthy would make a good theological seminary professor. Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the Methodist Episcopal church believes.

After watching Edgar Bergen and his dummy perform the bishop wrote radio officials, suggesting he could use McCarthy to help make theological students "more human."

PROFESSOR QUIZ TO BE FEATURED DURING FESTIVAL

Questions Concerning the Early History of City To Be Asked

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, the renowned and eminent radio character, Professor Quiz, will make his debut in Dixon to conduct his famous questionnaires on the platform to be located at First street and Hennepin avenue from 9 until 9:30 each of the two evenings, as one of the many feature attractions to be presented at Dixon's annual Fall Festival.

In order to arouse some real enthusiasm, Prof. Quiz is preparing several sets of brain twisters pertaining to the early history of Dixon and the surrounding territory, as well as some humorous material. Four teams, two for each night, are to be selected within the next few days. These teams of four members each, are to be composed of adults preferably two ladies teams and two men's teams. The winners are assured very worthwhile prizes for their efforts. Persons interested in the organization of a team to compete during the Prof. Quiz half hour on Tuesday or Wednesday evening are requested to address Prof. Quiz, in care of the Dixon Evening Telegraph, submitting questions and answers to be used, or the names of contestants desiring to compete.

Pet Parade Entries.
N. H. Kaiserman, chairman of the Pet Parade, has requested boys and girls who plan to participate in the parade and to compete for prizes, to register at their earliest convenience at the Dixon Chamber of Commerce. The parade will be headed by the drum and bugle corps of Boy Scout troop, No. 89, and several Girl Scout troops will also participate. Gerald Jones and L. J. Welch are also members of the committee.

Joe Judge of the Junior Chamber of Commerce today assured the Festival committee of two additional feature attractions to be sponsored by that organization. The annual pie eating contest, the joy of many a boy's heart, and the chicken calling contest for ladies, will be under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Vender of "Costly" Perfumes is Nabbed

Harry Hughes, a Rochelle canning factory worker, was taken in custody by police yesterday afternoon before he started a sales campaign of rare odors in perfumes to Dixon housewives. His sample case, police said, advertised the rare odors at a regular price of $10 per bottle, but a special sale price of one dollar was the price to be charged. At the police station, Hughes admitted that his wares could be purchased at a price of $1.25 per dozen bottles and rather than launch his special sale campaign, he took the advice of the officers and departed from Dixon.

GENERAL SYROVY APPEARS CHOICE TO HEAD CZECHS

Republic's President is Seeking Replacements For Hodza Cabinet

Prague, Sept. 22.—(AP)—General Jan Syrový, 50-year-old inspector general of the army, emerged as the almost certain choice today of President Benes to head a new military government, replacing that of Premier Milan Hodza, resigned.

Syrový emerged as the strong man of the republic as Benes sought a new regime to replace that of Hodza, which stepped out in the face of rising indignation over its "capitulation" to the Anglo-French proposal to cede Sudetenland to Germany.

A government spokesman said the new regime would not be a military dictatorship but "a military government" capable of the firmness needed to cope with the excited temper of the nation.

Syrový is regarded as a friend of Russia. He lost an eye while fighting in the famous Czech legion with the Russian armies during the World War.

There was speculation whether a new government would approve of the "capitulation" to Germany. The Czechoslovak people have raised demands for much greater firmness in the republic's foreign policy.

Cabinet Post Certain
An official radio broadcast said Syrový would receive a cabinet post, but which one was not specified. It was regarded as a certainty, however, that the general would either succeed Hodza or become minister of war.

The radio said it also was probable that General Jan Vobertlik, who served with Syrový in the Russian army during the World War and also is considered friendly to Russia, probably would be named minister of interior with control of the gendarmerie and police.

While Syrový was arising as a new leader there appeared to be no slackening of Czechoslovak defense measures. Border reports said soldiers still were moving into defense positions.

Many soldiers on frontier duty still had no information that the government had submitted to the German demands and were ready to resist any invasion.

Prague, meanwhile, became quieter. General Syrový himself several times made radio appeals—broadcast by street loudspeakers—asking the populace to preserve order. His plan apparently was being taken to heart.

"Army Is On Guard"
"The army is on guard," he assured the nation.

A statement broadcast from a Prague radio station said President Benes was negotiating formation of a "government of national unity."

It was not indicated if this were official but government control over communications left little doubt that it was, at least, inspired officially.

The government radio said the influence of the army would be increased in the new cabinet. Informed sources, however, said Benes still was seeking a civilian rather than an army man for premier in the belief that the military should not be given complete control.

There was no suggestion from official or other sources that setting aside constitutional government was being contemplated.

In response to clamorous popular indignation over the government's capitulation to the Anglo-French plan for ceding Sudetenland to Germany, Premier Milan Hodza and his minister placed their resignations in Benes' hands.

Assist President
But the cabinet remained in office assisting the president in the search for a new regime.

While Benes and Hodza still were in conference at the Burg palace at 12:30 P. M. (5:30 A. M., C. S. T.) crowds gathered on government hill and continued thronging the streets of Prague in noisy demonstrations.

As news spread throughout the country that the government had yielded to the British and French pressure exerted at behest of Adolf Hitler, a rising tide of protest flowed toward the capital.

Shouts of "out with the capitulators!" and "we want a military dictatorship!" resounded through the main thoroughfares of Prague as crowds totaling tens of thousands forced virtual disruption of all traffic.

Police, despite hundreds of reinforcements, were unable or unwilling to halt impromptu parades, demonstrations and speeches.

Syrový broadcast a message urging the people to remain calm and support the army and the

'Shoving Santa'

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—John Hamilton, Republican national chairman, commented today that the Democratic "purge" primaries "have shown that the spending of federal money will not carry elections when the people are aroused."

Hamilton stopped here while en route to Sterling, where he will address a Republican meeting tonight.

"Maybe the voters won't shoot a political Santa Claus," the chairman said, "But they can shove him around."

MINORITY RIGHTS ARE REQUESTED BY HUNGARIANS

Budapest, Sept. 22.—(AP)—It was officially announced today that Hungary, through her minister to Prague, handed a note to the Czechoslovak foreign minister, Kamil Krofta, this morning requesting rights for Hungarian minorities in Czechoslovakia, equal to those which may be granted the Sudeten German minority.

The demarche in Prague came after the Hungarian council had decided upon measures to assure the return to Hungary of territories which she lost to Czechoslovakia as a result of the World War.

Hungary seems determined to get those territories back at the same time Germany sets foot on Sudetenland.

It also was announced that other powers were informed of the step. A special appeal was said to have been sent to England by the Hungarian government, asking neither neglect nor postponement of Hungary's demands.

The Hungarian regent, Admiral Horthy, returned this morning from his "hunting trip" as the guest of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering in Germany, and immediately thereafter received the premier, the foreign and war ministers.

Among the other cabinet members was Antony Kunder, whom Admiral Horthy yesterday named minister of commerce.

There were reports here also that Rumania and Yugoslavia were concerned that Nazism was directing attention to influence in these two countries.

Fear Rumania May Become The Next Expansion Target

Bucharest, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Fears that Rumania might become the next field of German expansion aims as an aftermath of Czechoslovak acceptance of partition were expressed in government circles today.

A foreign official foresaw a possible German demand for full autonomy for the 700,000 Germans in Rumania. He predicted that Germany might apply the same tactics in Rumania which worked so well in Czechoslovakia.

The Rumanian press expressed a determination not to give up an inch of Rumanian territory should any country come forward with minority claims.

GIANTS 6, REDS 1

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Hal Schumacher, pitching despite a sore arm, hurled the New York Giants to a 6-1 victory over the Reds in the first game of today's double-header. Schumacher also hit a homer in the fourth with the bases empty and Bob Seeds unloaded another circuit blow for the National League champions with one on in the eighth.

His "Seeing Eye"

Ft. Wayne, Ind., Sept. 22.—(AP)—A mare has appointed herself "seeing eye" companion for an old blind horse in a field near here. The sightless horse is guided to water and the best places to eat by keeping his nose against the mare's body.

September Failed By a Single Day of Equaling Rainfall Records

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Fair weather prevailed throughout much of the middle west today while weather bureau statisticians chalked up a mark falling short by one day of the all-time record for continuous rainfall.

Rain that began falling late last night continued past midnight, raising the total of consecutive days with a trace of rain to 17. A similar siege occurred in 1880 and in 1904 a record of 18 days was set.

The official forecast made no mention of rain but Forecaster C. A. Donnell said it was possible some might fall in the Great Lakes region where cloudiness was reported today. Skies were overcast

250 KNOWN DEAD AS TRAGIC FIGURES MOUNT; NO GUESS AS TO PROPERTY DAMAGED

North Atlantic States Get Brunt of Storm; Thousands Reported Homeless; Fire, Flood

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The ever-lengthening roster of the dead from an equinoctial hurricane which struck the North Atlantic states with a savageness unequalled in a hundred years neared the 250 mark today—and still the tragic figures mounted.

The damage to property—to hundreds of smashed boats, to growing or maturing crops, to homes, utilities, public buildings, transportation and communication—was beyond calculation, rising to uncounted millions of dollars. How many thousands were homeless could not even be guessed.

Many thousands of men and women in the great area of disaster—troops, police, Coast Guardsmen, naval reservists, Red Cross workers, Boy Scouts—were called to the work of rescue.

The demarche in Prague came after the Hungarian council had decided upon measures to assure the return to Hungary of territories which she lost to Czechoslovakia as a result of the World War.

Hungary seems determined to get those territories back at the same time Germany sets foot on Sudetenland.

It also was announced that other powers were informed of the step. A special appeal was said to have been sent to England by the Hungarian government, asking neither neglect nor postponement of Hungary's demands.

The Hungarian regent, Admiral Horthy, returned this morning from his "hunting trip" as the guest of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering in Germany, and immediately thereafter received the premier, the foreign and war ministers.

Among the other cabinet members was Antony Kunder, whom Admiral Horthy yesterday named minister of commerce.

There were reports here also that Rumania and Yugoslavia were concerned that Nazism was directing attention to influence in these two countries.

Check on Supplies.
One quick governmental step was to direct federal food and drug inspectors to make systematic checks on food and other supplies in the disaster area. First official reports indicated no widespread contamination, but in some isolated communities there were food shortages.

Not only was great material damage done; in the historic old towns along the New England coast many old Colonial landmarks suffered.

The ancient whaling port of New London, Conn., where 30,000 people live, was among the old cities badly hit. Damage there was put at $4,000,000, most of it from fire.

In New England, where observers in airplanes spotted piles of splintered kindling wood which had been cottages a little while before, the discovery of the dead was running far ahead of efforts to identify them. In the early afternoon, around 100 victims already had been identified.

The dead included three Coast Guardsmen who died at their posts of rescue at Wood's Hole, Mass.

Volunteer workers dropped workday tasks to search debris for bodies of missing victims or to rescue residents marooned by floods. Red Cross authorities mobilized their forces to feed and comfort hysterical refugees.

Coast Guard Reinforced
Coast Guard headquarters in Washington dispatched 2,500 men and scores of cutters to the storm scene. The Coast Guard estimated between 500 and 700 small fishing and pleasure craft had been sunk or driven ashore.

The hurricane, which spared the Florida and the southern coast as it curved northward, by a similar fluke missed New York City in its haphazard march of destruction.

Sections of Manhattan and the Bronx were plunged into darkness for hours. A power failure stranded several thousand subway patrons underground for several hours, but the rock-based skyscrapers of the city weathered the winds easily. Torrential rains forced hundreds of residents in low-lying sections of the Bronx to flee to safety.

Waves battered the entire 100-mile length of Long Island, washing away hundreds of small summer cottages and beach buildings. Among them was a lighthouse that had withstood the sea's whims for 75 years.

Exclusive Resort Razed
Most forlorn of the "gold coast's" villages was West Hampton, a summer playground for New York society, where at least 140 homes were wrecked. A dozen bodies lay in the exclusive West Hampton Country club, many unidentified.

A police cordon kept spectators

CHIEF OF ARMY AIR CORPS IS CRASH VICTIM

Burbank, Calif., Sept. 22.—(AP)—The deaths of Major General Oscar Westover, United States Army Air Corps chief, and his personal pilot, Sergeant Sam Hynes, in a power-spin of their attack plane yesterday afternoon became the subject today of three inquiries.

As Brigadier General H. H. Arnold assumed the title of acting chief of the Air Corps, an army board of inquiry, headed by Lieut. Col. Harvey S. Burwell, commander of the 19th bombardment group, was named to investigate the cause of the crash which brought flaming death to the pair.

An inquest will be held Monday. In addition, there will be an inquiry by the newly-created federal civil aeronautics authority, Robert Hinckley of Salt Lake City, a member of the authority, announced. Hinckley explained the scene of the crash, in a residential area, makes it "within our jurisdiction to conduct an inspection."

President Roosevelt in Washington sent his condolences to the general's widow. The president said the general was "a gallant soldier—a true friend—one whose loss neither the nation nor his friends can afford."

General Westover, a short, stocky man, flew his own plane and possessed ratings as heavier-than-air pilot, airplane observer, lighter-than-air pilot, and balloon observer.

He was born in Bay City, Mich., 55 years ago.

French Freight Train Robbed of Gold Today

Marseille, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Ten masked bandits ambushed a freight train between Marseille and Avignon today and made off with gold ore weighing 395 pounds after wounding a member of the train crew.

Officials said the ore, being shipped from the Belgian Congo to a smelting plant in Belgium, probably was worth several hundred thousand francs (100,000 francs is $2,700).

The train came to a halt when a member of the band, hidden aboard, applied the brakes. The band fired a fusillade at the train, wounding a guard when the crew descended to see what was wrong. The robbers loaded the two crates of ore into an automobile and sped away. Mobile guards set out in pursuit of the band, and police blocked all Marseille roads.

BEEES CAME TO

Berne, Ind., (AP)—William Townsend, the governor's cousin, shot a squirrel from a tree in which bees have a hive. The squirrel tumbled on Townsend's head. There were bees on the squirrel—and then there were bees on Townsend's head.

TAINTED PASTRY FOUND CAUSE OF DEATH, ILLNESS

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Tainted pastry was blamed today by scientists for the mysterious ailment which afflicted 144 persons on Chicago's west side and adjacent suburbs during the past week.

Many of the victims, one of whom died, reported they were stricken after eating a chocolate confection sold in the neighborhood.

Chemists and bacteriologists attributed the malady to paratyphoid and staphylococci germs. Coroner Frank J. Walsh said the pastry was the vehicle of the intestinal infection.

Earl Bennison of suburban Elmwood Park died last week-end. Some members of his family became seriously ill. Miss C. I. Woolsey, Cook county hospital bacteriologist, said an analysis of Bennison's vital organs disclosed the presence of staphylococci germs.

Investigators said they found no evidence of typhoid nor dysentery. Dr. H. J. Shaughnessy of the state health department said paratyphoid germs had been found in pastry from the same batch as that eaten by the victims.

Paratyphoid germs cause acute intestinal inflammation and the symptoms of the disease resemble those of typhoid. Physicians said the germs are similar to those causing epidemic meat poisoning and parrot fever.

THATCHER WHEAT MAY BE ALLER- GIC TO DISEASE

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Crop experts fear that the rust-resisting power of Thatcher wheat, agronomists' newest weapon against the disease which destroys grain, may wane during coming seasons.

Thatcher wheat, planted in record-breaking acreage in the spring wheat belt this year, turned in an excellent performance in a season of widespread rust infection, according to crop authorities today, but showed the first signs of vulnerability.

It was unscathed by rust and proved to be a potent factor in thwarting spread of the disease permitting spring wheat farmers to grow their best crop in six years.

However, the first evidence of rust infection of Thatcher wheat since the introduction of that variety in 1934 has been found.

H. C. Donovan, widely-traveled crop expert, said today he had discovered minor black stem infections on the sheath blade. No damage was done, he said, but the fact that infection was found is disquieting. He expressed fear that Thatcher may succumb eventually to rust as have previously-developed resistant wheats.

Appearance of different types of rust each year leaves open the possibility that some new varieties might be developed to which Thatcher will be allergic, according to C. M. Galvin, plant expert. Donovan said there was a wider prevalence of black stem rust in the belt than ever before but the most severe form of damage was held in check by the more than usual unfavorable weather for progress of the disease and by the increased acreage of Thatcher.

BUS LINES SEEK TO BE GIVEN U. S. MAIL RIGHTS

Washington Motor Bus Official Suggests Recognition

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—R. T. Whiting of Seattle urged the government today to recognize motor bus lines operating under Interstate Commerce Commission jurisdiction as potential U. S. mail routes.

"In nearly all cases motor bus lines offer a frequency of service that can not be equalled by any other method of passenger transportation," he said in an address prepared for the convention of the National Association of Motor Bus Operators.

"United States mail, especially first class, in order to move expeditiously and frequently, should travel with passengers," he said. "The postmaster general should not only be authorized but directed to inquire into the bus service of a community with a view of utilizing it for the dispatch of U. S. mail."

"He should be authorized to contract with any bus company operating under a certificate from the I. C. C. for the carriage of mail without the necessity of advertising for bids. Where a rate for such service can not be agreed upon, mail should be handled at a rate to be later determined by the I. C. C."

Service "Ignored."

Whiting, vice president and general manager of the Washington Motor Coach Company, declared the postoffice department had "ignored" the frequency of bus service between many communities in favor of railway service which "had a limited number of departures and did not provide the communities concerned with the greatest efficiency in postal service, because of the postoffice department's prejudice against bus lines."

He said air lines and railroads were being subsidized by the government and while the bus lines "are not seeking such a subsidy, they do ask that their services be given consideration in the carrying of the U. S. mail."

Whiting said "bus lines can furnish mail services direct to the postoffice in some of the smaller communities, thus eliminating the necessity of what is commonly known as 'side service, and thus saving the cost of delivering mail from railroad stations to the postoffice."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HARVEST FESTIVAL.

Rochelle—Over $200.00 in merchandise and cash prizes will be on to enterprising individuals and farm groups who are proud enough of their products and workmanship to enter them in competition with their neighbors in the annual harvest festival to be held Friday and Saturday, September 30th and October 1st.

Judging from the large number of merchants already signed up to cooperate in this affair, this year's event will far exceed others in size of exhibits as well as number of exhibits, and value of prizes offered.

Individual and group entries will be accepted commencing on Wednesday, September 28, and the closing date is Thursday noon, September 29—giving interested exhibitors only one and one-half days to enter their products.

Each merchant will keep a record book, containing the names and addresses of the owners of the exhibits in his display window. Numbers will be allotted to exhibitors, and these numbers will appear on the exhibit. The judges will see the numbers, and only the merchant shall know who owns the exhibit. Each participating merchant shall award first, second and third prizes for the displays in his window.

Following is the complete list of stores and the products that shall be displayed in their windows. Exhibitors are asked to take their exhibits to the merchant displaying the item in which they are interested.

Carney & Longenecker—yellow dent corn, 5 ears; B. F. Faley—white dent, 5 ears; National Bank—hybrid, 5 ears; Zimmerman Bros—pop corn, 5 ears; Rochelle Leader—quart of oats; C. T. ROME REAPS THE WHIRLWIND

Those who have followed our review of the collapse of republican Rome during the last few weeks will have noted how the Roman constitution, written laws and traditions were destroyed by the method of nullifying them inch by inch.

Tiberius Gracchus—Saw the real need of farm relief and attempted to cure it by appeals to the mob instead of by consultation with the other constituted authorities. Produced a crisis, was suspected of wanting a crown, and was slain.

Gaius Gracchus—Followed the same farm relief program as his brother, Tiberius. To gain added support he instituted the dole of grain for labor. Suspected of wanting crown; slain.

Marius—Followed program of the Gracchi, enlarged the dole system, overrode tradition against too many terms for consuls and was re-elected six times. Made notable purges of those who opposed him.

Julius Caesar—Enlarged upon Marius' program; gave notable circuses for the people; re-elected numerous times as consul and finally made dictator for life. Slain by Brutus and others for wanting to be emperor.

Augustus Caesar—Enlarged upon the programs of the Gracchi, Marius and Julius Caesar. Bread and circuses for the people; packed the senate with yes-men and had himself proclaimed emperor.

Now, to use a colorful expression, to so-called Roman "republic" is on the skids. Gone is the pretense of helping the poor, the slaves and the common people. Augustus is but one name of a series that flashes across the pages of history amidst the tramp of contending armies, rival emperors, degenerate heirs. The people are crushed by taxation. The young men are drafted to fight other Romans in civil war; the daughters are sold into slavery; there are famine and pestilence while short-lived emperors have their day of power.

Emperors come to depend upon their own crack troops, the praetorian guard, for control of the empire. The guard grows stronger than the ruler and the tail wags the dog. Now and then arises a just and honorable man. Commodus is followed by Pertinax.

Pertinax resolves upon economy and industry. He finds the treasury empty. He throws out the squanderers, recalls to Rome the families ousted in the purge. He extends his economy even to the praetorian guard which had lived in luxury, and the guard murders him.

Now the Romans rule the world only on the momentum stored up in virtuous days. No commander of outlying legions could have imagined the selection of the emperor who followed Pertinax. The guards want money and power and honors. They decide to auction the throne to the highest bidder. There are two contenders for the honor. They are Sulpicianus, the dead emperor's father-in-law, and Didius Julianus, a member of the "packed" senate. Their representatives scurry back and forth between their masters and the chiefs of the guard. Sulpicianus bids 5000 drachms cash; Julianus offers 6250 drachms. What am I bid, gentlemen, for the emperors of the civilized world? The senator with the purple-striped cloak bids 6250 drachms. Are there any others? Going, going, gone!

And control of the known world was knocked down for somewhere in the neighborhood of $1000 American dollars.

This was the system designed to help the poor and unfortunate, the farmer and the slave. It was the fruit of nullified laws, packed senates and bribery of the people by doles of bread, grain and circuses. The evil was planted by the Gracchi, cultivated by Marius and Caesar, and reached its fruition under Commodus.

Now the eggs are scrambled. The people no longer depend upon laws which everybody can read and use as a guide for conduct. They depend upon men and the whims of men who say one thing and mean another; who say one day they will not do a certain thing, but break their promises the next. The substance is succeeded by the shadow and there is civil war.

Out of the civil war arises the Emperor Severus. He bribes the people with further doles, enriches the praetorian guard and enlarges upon the vicious precepts of his predecessors. There are more monstrous successors. Finally we arrive at a ruler who seems the ultimate conclusion of nullified laws, an overthrown constitution and a senate packed with yes-men.

He is Elagabalus. Quoting Gibbon
"He was drawn in his sacerdotal robes of silk and gold  His head was covered with a lofty tura, his numerous collars and bracelets were adorned with gems of an inestimable value. His eyebrows were tinged with black and his cheeks painted with an artificial red and white. The grave senators confessed with a sigh that after having experienced the tyranny of their own countrymen, Rome was at length humbled beneath the effeminate luxury of oriental despotism.  In a solemn procession through the streets of Rome, the way was strewn with gold dust; the black stone" (representing the Sun god) "set in precious gems, was placed on a chariot drawn by six milk white horses richly caparisoned. The pious emperor held the reins, and supported by his ministers moved slowly backward that he might perpetually enjoy the felicity of the divine presence ***"

After a short reign marked by every kind of degeneracy and folly:

"Elagabalus was massacred by the indignant praetorians, his mutilated corpse was dragged through the streets of the city and thrown into the Tiber."

And now we see a new menace to Rome. Soldiers of the legions that had guarded the borders faithfully through centuries, seeing what was happening to their government, began wondering whether the empire was worth fighting to preserve. They began to desert, and worse than that they deserted in bands that roved the countryside, imitating the lawlessness of their rulers. Always, back into the dark woods of what is now the Danube valley and Germany, there lurked hundreds of thousands of barbarians watching ceaselessly for a chance to invade and sack the empire.

SOMETHING ABOUT GOLD

The present gold reserve of the United States amounts to about 13 billion dollars. The total reserve of monetary gold, held by all countries including the United States, is around 25 billion dollars worth. All the gold mined in history is estimated as worth 52 billion dollars.

The present United States national debt amounts to something more than three times the value of the nation's gold reserve. Stating it the other way around, the nation's gold reserve amounts to about 32½ per cent of the national

OFFICERS ELECTED

The Social Harmony club will meet at the home of Mrs. Alcide Craig Tuesday evening with Mrs. Bess Abraham, Mrs. Florence Gonigam and Mrs. Viva Hasenay as assistant hostesses. Mrs. Ida Larkin, the president opened the meeting with the club song, "You Can Smile". Reports for the year were read and a vote was taken to see if the club would continue with monthly meetings. The majority desired to continue as heretofore. The election of officers followed: president, Jane Gilchrist; vice president, Jennie Hill; secretary, Alcide Craig; treasurer, Blanche Hatland; Mrs. Bertha Kerchner and Miss Blanche Gumbel had charge of the program. They opened the program with the song, "I Would Be True". Mrs. Kerchner sang two songs, "Some Where a Voice is Calling" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told". She was accompanied by Bernell Ross. Mrs. Ida Larkin read, "When Ma Wants Something New". Mrs. Lucille Bolz gave a whistling solo, "Sometime". She was accompanied by Allen Strauss. Mrs. Verna Frederick and Mrs. Jennie Hill a duet, "Cathedral in the Pines". Myrtle Hopkins read an article, "My Roof". Miss Iris Strul and Mrs. Lucille Bolz sang two duets, "Flow Gently, Sweetly Laughter" and "Farewell to Summer". Mrs. Dorothy Shearburn read an article "Singing in the Rain". There were 28 members present and the guests were Rev. and Mrs. Street, Iris Street and Bernell Ross. Delicious refreshments were served.

ENTERTAINED GUEST

Olav Christiansen was greatly surprised Tuesday afternoon when a school mate of his in Norway came to spend the afternoon and evening with him and his family. Mr. and Mrs. O. Gunderson live in San Francisco and had been touring Europe for five months. They have been making a number of visits with friends and relatives since they arrived in New York. They left Wednesday for Wisconsin and Minnesota to visit relatives before returning to their home in California. Mr. Gunderson and Mr. Christiansen were boyhood pals and attended the same school in Norway before coming to America.

W. F. M. S. MEETING

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Swanson Wednesday afternoon with 11 members present and two guests. Dr. Street and Miss Dorothy Pierson. Mrs. Forney had charge of the devotions opening the meeting with the song, "Fairer Lord Jesus". Her topic was, "The Challenge" and as our text book for the year is on the study of India she read several missionary experiences of missionaries to that country. She closed the meeting with a prayer.

Mrs. Howard Smith the president, conducted a short business meeting. Reports were given. The district meeting is to be held at DeKalb on Sept. 30th. The officers as well as the other members read a prayer for installation. Mrs. Nussle, the Mite Box secretary, interpreted the design and spoke of the Lamp of India as the mite box was exhibited and given to each member. Dorothy Pierson in Indian costume and with the Lamp of India in her hand gave to the non-Christian the Scriptural references from Isa 9-2; 1st 60-3; John 8-12; Matt 5-14 and Acts 13-47. Catherine Lee Bates gave an Indian Bible woman the privilege of re-writing "America the Beautiful" and using the same tune and naming the song "India" our India. The group then sang all three verses. Mrs. Smith spoke of the text book and its seven chapters each by a different author. She also presented the goals for the auxiliary for 1938. Mrs. Nussle was program chairman. Mrs. Swanson served delicious refreshments.

Plenty of Dark Meat For All on Holidays

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—A promise of plenty of turkeys for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners has come from the department of agriculture.

Experts said that the 1938 turkey crop was about 3.7 per cent larger than last year and that the festive gobblers were somewhat heavier because of plenty of green feed in most sections of the country.

Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

"Yesir, when I was down on the Southern Shortline forty years ago we had the real old railroadin' days." An old engineer was speaking. "One time we had one of those tough problems to figure out that were always coming up because of the single tracks and use of switches for trains to pass one another. One time I was approaching a switch with old 47 pulling fifty cars. Down beyond the switch I could see Jim Jones' locomotive chugging towards me. We had to pass and the switch would only hold twenty-five cars. How do you suppose we passed each other and got on our way again?"

Can you answer it? Call the old engineer's train A and Jim Jones' train B.

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler. The four cars would cross the line together 12 minutes after they started.

debt. The United States national debt amounts to about 77 per cent of the value of all the gold mined since the craze for the metal began.

One of the arguments against payment of federal bonds in gold was that there wasn't that much gold. At the present rate of spending the national debt will, not very long hence, amount to the value of all the gold mined in history. And gold, even though it is being slickered and maneuvered, still is a standard of value.

WASHINGTON—Ambassador Joe Kennedy is one of the few diplomats who has been at the right hand of Prime Minister Chamberlain throughout the Czech-Nazi crisis. His reports, sent in great detail direct to the President, have been one reason for Roosevelt's hurried return to Washington.

The tone of Kennedy's reports left no doubt that, in his opinion, Europe had little chance to escape war. Kennedy was particularly graphic in reporting the mountain-top conversation between Chamberlain and Adolf Hitler.

Highlight of this conference was Chamberlain's plea that war would jeopardize all that was fine in present-day civilization, that it would throw off their heads the populations would throw off their government, giving reign to utter chaos.

Hitler's reply was something like this: "Perhaps your government will be overthrown, but not ours. We've changed our social order. You are still struggling to pre-munch capitalism, but both Mussolini and I have already brought about revolutions. Your revolution is yet to come. And that is why you have to give in to us now."

This was the remark which caused Chamberlain to leave without taking dinner with Hitler as originally intended.

Class Warfare
There is a lot more to Chamberlain's fears of governmental chaos in case of war than is generally realized on this side of the Atlantic.

Airplane bombing has been so perfected that war would bring Europe's finest cities to the same stark ruin which has struck Madrid and Barcelona. It is doubtful whether civilian populations would tolerate any government save the most ruthless dictatorship. Chamberlain or fascism would blossom overnight. General European war probably would mean the end of democracy—a loss of civilization.

Knowledge of this is one reason behind the British Cabinet's effort to remain aloof from Czechoslovakia, let her go it alone if she continues to rebuff Germany.

Note—Insight into Chamberlain's present reasoning may be gathered from a remark he made to a colleague some time ago who was urging him to oppose General Franco in Spain.

"But don't you see?" Chamberlain is quoted as saying, Franco is fighting for our class. If he loses, we shall labor government's everywhere."

What the Czechs are now up against as a result of the French and British cave-in is briefly this: Either to go down fighting the Nazis, or be swallowed by them alive.

To surrender the Sudeten area sounds relatively simple, but in fact it means the permanent Nazi yoke around the whole of Czechoslovakia for the following reasons:

1. Once Nazi troops have a stronghold inside the mountain slopes of Czechoslovakia, they can advance into the rest of the country at any time. In other words, the natural barrier of the Sudeten mountains is removed.

2. The raw materials of Czechoslovakia—iron, wood and quartz, most of them in the Sudeten area—will be under the control of Germany. Thus, without any armed advance, the Nazis can put the economic screws on the Czechs at any time. The country will be like Austria—an economic monstrosity impossible of survival without German support.

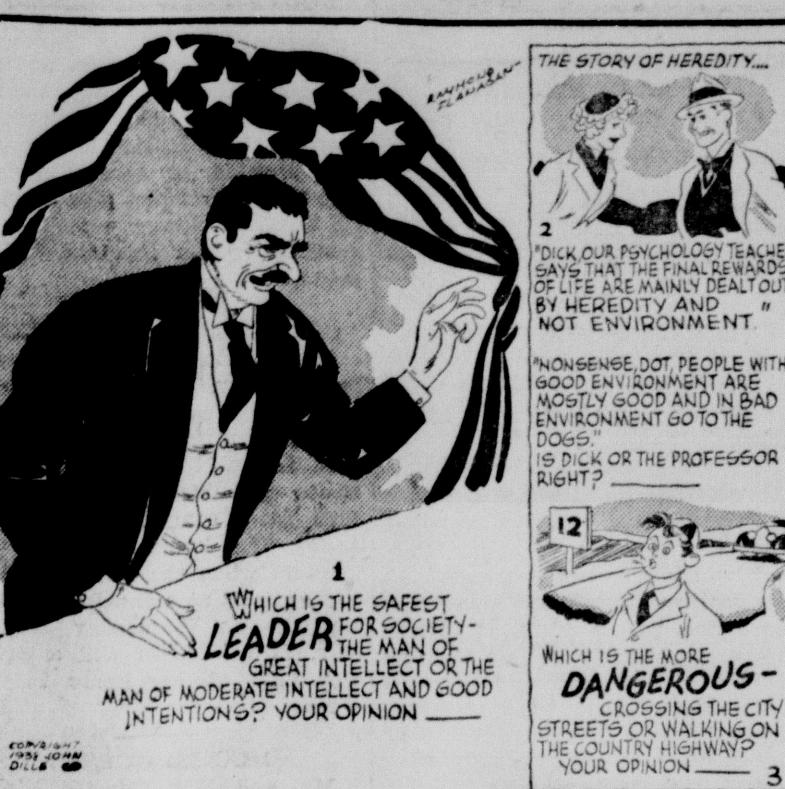

3. The Russian alliance, which the French and British now ask the Czechs to surrender, is concrete and can be counted upon. The Franco-British alliance, offered in its place, is about as dependable as the present about-face executed by these two countries.

Sewage Disposal
A newsman recently asked Secretary Ickes if he would accept an invitation to speak in a nearby city in favor of a sewage disposal plant advocated there. Grinning mischievously, Ickes replied:

"No, I've decided not to talk. You see, it might be construed as 'interference' in local affairs. And I believe that States and municipalities ought to have the

Answer to Question No. 1

1. In a recent address, entitled "Great Abilities," Prof. E. L. Thorndike said, "We will do better to trust our fortunes to able persons than to try to pick well-intentioned ones" and pointed out further that great intellect and good intentions tend to go together. When the man of moderate intellect has good intentions, as he often has, he is likely to undertake impossible measures and reforms that do far more harm than good. I sometimes wonder whether the world has been harmed more by wicked men than by stupid men with good intentions. History shows that even able tyrants, while often personally wicked and brutal, have nevertheless usually worked for the good of their country. At any rate the safest thing in the world on the average is intelligence, because as over 500 researches have shown, it is likely to be coupled with moral character.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. What this professor—Edward L. Thorndike—means is that good environment benefits everybody and bad environment is bad for everybody, but what chiefly concerns us is not whether our environment is good or bad compared with, say that of our grandparents or of the Eskimos, but whether we are better or worse off than our neighbor. We are not trying to get ahead but to get ahead of somebody—and our ability to do that depends in large measure on our inborn capacities—our heredity. Therefore, our relative rewards—which is what mainly concerns us—are largely given or withheld by the hand of heredity.

This is very optimistic because it shows we have inborn powers by which we can do something about it and are not the helpless victims of environment.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. The best information available shows that the death rate to pedestrians on country highways runs over three and a half times greater than for all other automobile accidents combined and many times worse than for pedestrians crossing city streets. In fact, outside of being in the front line trenches in war, walking on the country highway is the most dangerous.

untrammeled right to dispose of their sewage as they see fit."

NLRB Preparedness

Fully aware that it is slated to be a major issue in the next Congress, the National Labor Relations Board is quietly priming its guns for the bitter battle.

Under the direction of David Saposs, chief NLRB economist, a staff of legal and industrial experts are busy assembling data to refute the various charges that have been hurled at the Board both by employers and by A. F. of L. leaders.

Saposs is particularly well equipped for this job. He received his early training as an assistant to Professor John R. Commons, Wisconsin's famed economist, who authored that State's workmen's compensation act and who was largely responsible for the creation of the Federal Trade Commission during the Wilson Administration.

Bridewell Chapla Will Speak Tomorrow Eve at Bethel Church

The Rev. C. J. Balfe, chaplain of the Bridewell House of Correction in Chicago, who is familiarly known as "Lucky" Baldwin, will speak on the subject, "Christ or Crime," at the Bethel U. E. church, corner of Morgan and Galena avenue, at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

Mr. Balfe has served in the capacity of chaplain for 28 years, and has had many interesting experiences among prisoners, not only at the Bridewell, but also in other prisons. He spoke recently to a large audience in the College library at Battle Creek, Mich., and one of his statements was: "I have never seen a converted boy or girl enter prison, but I have seen many go out." He has led many men to the electric chair, and is able to give testimonies given by condemned men. Many of the men who have been converted in the Bridewell prison have become ministers and Christian workers, Mr. Balfe states. He is widely known, has spoken before many summer conferences, and is often heard by radio audiences.

The public is invited to attend the service.

Huyetts are Honored on 67th Anniversary of Their Marriage

Celebration of their sixty-seventh wedding anniversary was a happy event yesterday for Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Huyett of 721 Calena avenue. Between 60 and 70 relatives and friends called during an informal reception between 2 and 4 P. M., and many remembered the occasion with gifts and flowers and greeting cards.

Rooms of the home were festive with bouquets of cut flowers, presented by the guests, and the gold and white wedding cake was also a gift. Yellow tapers were lighted and placed at either side of the anniversary cake on the refreshment table.

Of the couple's eight children, one son, Ray, was unable to be present. The Ray Huyetts were enroute home from a vacation trip to Colorado. All except three of the Huyettes' 17 grandchildren attended the homecoming, and most of the couple's 25 great-grandchildren were also there.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sheep and two daughters of Franklin Grove, and friends from Amboy and Rock Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Huyett were married Sept. 21, 1871, in Wernersville, Pa., and have resided in Lee county since 1876. Among the congratulatory messages received by the couple were greetings from Mrs. Huyett's only sister, Mrs. Mary Ludwig of Wernersville, Pa., and Mr. Huyett's sister and brother, Mrs. Kate Hain of Redding, Pa., and Henry Huyett of Wernersville.

READING CIRCLE IS REORGANIZED

Twelve members were present at the September meeting of the South Dixon Teachers' Reading circle at the Will school, at which new officers were named for the coming year. Officers elected were:

President, Ruth Bowers; vice president, Mrs. Fred Langhoff; secretary-treasurer, Beth Atkinson. Marie Shippert gave a report from Gertrude Hildreth's book, "Learning the 3 R's," which is to be one of the books discussed this year.

It was agreed to hold evening meetings on the first Tuesday of each month at the various teachers' homes, instead of afternoon meetings at the school buildings. Julia Brechon was hostess at the September meeting, and Dorothy Shippert is to entertain at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening, Oct. 4.

READING CIRCLE HAS STEAK FRY

Sizzling steaks prepared by the guests' own hands at the outdoor grill on the Charles Dickey lawn were enjoyed last evening by members of the Palmyra Teachers' Reading circle. Following a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Pius Burgard and a report by Mrs. Edna Pine on "Foundations of Curriculum Building," Mrs. Dickey presented a miniature horse show for her guests' entertainment.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Redebaugh at 7:30 P. M., Oct. 19.

RETURN FROM SOUTHERN VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Overstreet returned to Dixon last evening, after a delightful vacation trip through the southern states. After visiting friends in Shreveport, they motored along the gulf trail and through the Smoky mountain region. At Elizabethtown, Ky., they were guests of the Frederick Warfields.

Freeport Wa-Tan-Ye Members Entertain at Joint Meeting

Dixon and Freeport branches of the Wa-Tan-Ye club were initiated a year ago this month at Freeport, and last evening the double anniversary was celebrated at a joint dinner meeting of five branches in this area at the Freeport Y. W. C. A. Dinner covers were arranged for sixty-five guests from Dixon, Morrison, Dubuque, Mt. Carroll, and Freeport.

Table appointments reflected the Wa-Tan-Ye colors, red, black, and yellow. After dinner, the following program was presented: Vocal solo, Emily Wendt; Russian dance, Shirley Miller; military tap, Peggy Sue Poole; reading, Marilyn McCool; dance, Lamm twins; Gypsy dance, Shirley Miller; violin selections, Emil Watz. Mrs. Lucile Poole, president of the local branch, was introduced and made a short talk. Others attending from this city were Mrs. Hazel Miller, Mrs. Emma Wilhelm, Miss Marie Kelly, Miss Frances Patrick, Miss Martha Meppin, and Miss Alice Meppin.

AMBOY COUPLE WEDS IN CLINTON

Miss Ruth C. Gascoigne, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gascoigne of Amboy, and Glenn M. Searls, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Searls, also of Amboy, were united in marriage Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage in Clinton, Iowa. The Rev. Lester Strubbar read the ceremony at 3:30 o'clock.

Miss Lois Sachs and Walter Steider of Ashton attended the couple. The bride wore a dark blue suit, and Miss Sachs chose royal blue chiffon.

Mrs. Searls, who was graduated from Amboy high school in 1934, has been employed at the Lee County Farm Bureau office in Amboy for the past two years.

BIRTHDAY COURTESY

Members of the Nighthawk club planned a chicken supper for Sunday evening at the R. C. Ommen home on Second street, honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary Long. Covers were arranged for nearly 20 guests, and after supper, games of crazy eight were played.

Mrs. Toot Arranges Kitchen Shower for Miss Evelyn Byers

When Mrs. Raymond Toot entertained last evening with a kitchen shower for Miss Evelyn Byers, an October bride-to-be, seven friends of the hostess and honoree were present. The gift packages were presented to Miss Byers after several rounds of contract, in which Miss Emily Swan and the bride-elect received prizes.

Mrs. Toot served refreshments to her guests, who were her sister-in-law, Mrs. Chandler Sterling of Wilmette, Mrs. Jack Fritzlen, and the Misses Emily Swan, Betty George, Betty Merriman, Anna Jean Crabtree, and the honoree.

On Oct. 9, Miss Byers will become Mrs. Louis F. Salzman.

FORMER DIXONITE WEDS ROCK ISLAND GIRL

Mrs. J. O. Symonds of Rock Island announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Dolie DeLoach, to Max K. Frase, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Max K. Frase, 1209 Fourteenth-and-a-half street, Rock Island, former Dixonites. The wedding was solemnized at 1 P. M. Sept. 3 in the First Presbyterian church at Henderson, Ky. The Rev. Rutherford E. Douglas officiated.

Miss Imogene Cullison and Leonard H. Shippey of Rock Island, who were also married in Henderson later, attended the couple.

Miss DeLoach was attired in a beige silk frock with matching accessories. She was graduated from Rock Island high school, and is employed by the Servus Rubber company.

The bridegroom, more familiarly known here as Junior Frase, formerly attended Rock Island high school, and is employed at the Coca Cola Bottling works.

For the present, Mr. and Mrs. Frase will reside with the bridegroom's parents.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Greater Freedom in International Trade Needed Says Czech

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—A Czechoslovakian industrialist told the international management congress today that "regulation of trade by an authoritative regime brings about a static economy and a lowered living standard."

Dr. A. Basch of Prague, unable to attend himself, sent this message to the congress:

"It is the duty of the great powers to set an example and to take such steps, through international collaboration, as will enable the smaller countries to participate in world trade by developing that trade on a basis of greater freedom."

UNDER CONSIDERATION
Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Administrator Ickes said today resumption of public works spending in Illinois did not preclude allotment of federal funds to Chicago for a multi-million dollar subway.

He said the big project, which would involve a PWA grant of approximately $14,000,000 was still under consideration of a special commission and he expected to hear from it next week.

U. S. ENGINEERS PROMISE BRYDIA FLOOD INQUIRY

Ask His Assistance in Preparation of Data Concerning River

Mayor George Brydia of Prophetstown, Republican candidate for state representative, has received the following letter from the U. S. government engineers at Rock Island in reply to his letter of September 15, in regard to the flood investigation of the Rock river and Rock creek valleys:

"Your continued interest in Rock river flood control as evidenced by your letter of September 15, 1938, is greatly appreciated.

"In connection with our study of Rock river floods, we are keeping close track of the conditions which prevail, not only generally, but specifically, during flood periods, and you may rest assured that we actually see the flood damage in our work.

"In fact, during the next few months our engineers will make a detailed study of the flood damage, which has resulted, not only from the present flood, but from the flood of last spring. These flood damage surveys are of prime value to us in making our studies of the economic justification of flood control works.

"Experience in making studies of this kind indicates that it is usually advisable not to hold hearings during actual flood periods for two reasons: First, that accurate estimates of the damage cannot be obtained; and second, that owing to the existence of the floods, many people cannot attend the hearings. For these reasons it is considered advisable to have the public hearings for the Rock river in January as contemplated. We hope that you will personally note the conditions in your vicinity so that you may present the information at the hearing to supplement the information which we are now obtaining."

brakeman George Green saw them crawl into a box car as the train was stopped to switch a car. Paul fired two shots in the air and brought a dozen officers running to the spot.

Surrender After One Shot

The bandits refused to obey a command to get out of the box car, after they were sighted in a corner by Robert Hansen, Winnebago county special deputy who had engaged in a gun battle with the pair in the Seward Bluffs forest preserve shortly after midnight yesterday.

Chief Deputy Harry Yde of Winnebago county fired a shotgun blast into the box car and the pair crawled out into the arms of Deputies Yde, Ray Meads, Gerald Plovman and Walter Engels of Stephenson county. Deputies Hansen, Dario Nanni and Claude Johnson of Winnebago county, state police officers and Freeport police Yde and Engels handcuffed the pair.

Before leaving the car the pair dropped a loaded automatic pistol on the floor of the box car.

Although both at first denied that they had a second gun, young Cox last night admitted to Chief Deputy Carl Palmgren of Rockford that he threw a .38 caliber revolver away in the Seward forest preserve after exchanging pistol shots with Special Deputy Hansen.

Thought He Hit Hansen
"I thought I hit him, so I threw the gun away and ran," Cox told Palmgren. Palmgren plans to take the youth to the forest preserve this morning to search for the gun. Cox last night was still under the impression one of his bullets had hit Hansen as the latter remained alone in the forest preserve early yesterday morning to prevent the bandits from regaining the car they had abandoned. Hansen, firing blasts from a shotgun and a revolver at the pair, drove them off and they dashed through the preserve before reinforcements arrived.

Robberies which authorities said the pair confessed yesterday were:

Fred Buchanan gasoline filling station at Rockton, where they obtained $22 in cash and kidnapped the attendant, Walter Buchanan, 22.

Allan McMahon, Durand, whose car the bandits stopped on a road a mile and a half south of Durand as they were fleeing after the Rockton holdup. McMahon was robbed of a gold watch and about $3 in change. He threw $3 in bills out of the window as the bandits approached and recovered the money yesterday.

Arthur Jacobs filling station, a mile east of Freeport, where the attendant, Glen Stauffer, 18, was held up at 1:45 A. M. Tuesday and robbed of $40.

The pair also admitted they had obtained gasoline without paying for it from a number of filling stations throughout Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin during the last ten days.

A state warrant charging them with armed robbery in connection with the Rockton filling station holdup was issued yesterday and served on McKay and Cox before their arraignment.

To Be Tried for Rockton Crime

Although a lengthy series of other charges can be filed against the pair, including kidnapping of young Buchanan, Kullberg indicated they will be tried first for the Rockton robbery the most serious of the lengthy crime series.

McKay and Cox talked freely when questioned by Kullberg after their capture yesterday morning. They denied at first, however, that they fired "on the cops", and insisted that all the shots in the Seward forest preserve were fired by deputies, state police and other members of the posse. The stolen Dodge sedan which they abandoned in the forest preserve was punctured by at least nine bullets.

Authorities said the holes seemed to have been made by larger bullets than the .25 caliber ones fired with the bandit's gun which they said they bought at Cairo, Ill. This mystery was explained last night when Cox admitted throwing away the .38 caliber gun.

After abandoning the car, which they said they stole last week at Plainfield, Ill., from a used car dealer, the bandits insisted that they fled at once on foot across field to Seward.

Buchanan escaped from the bandits in the forest preserve and joined the posse, which included Winnebago and Stephenson county deputies, state police from Rockford, Sterling and Dixon. Police Sergeant Bert Tavenner and Motorcycle Officer Wendell Wolf of Freeport, Rockton residents and farmers residing in the vicinity of the forest preserve. Close to 75 men took part in the manhunt which was organized at 1 o'clock yesterday morning after Deputies Dario Nanni and Robert Hansen temporarily trapped the bandit pair in the forest preserve.

One Admits Battling Officer

Although Cox last night admitted exchanging shots with Hansen in the forest preserve McKay insisted yesterday that the only shots they fired during their wild flight were three fired at Peter Jecklin, Rockford life insurance agent who drove into the Buchanan filling station immediately after the holdup, noted the license number on the bandit car, and gave chase. After an eight mile chase, he returned to Rockton, notified the owner of the station of the holdup and called the sheriff's office in Rockford.

Jecklin and Fred Buchanan then resumed the bandit hunt and came across the car again at Durand corner. Fred Buchanan said he had two opportunities to blast through the bandit car with his shotgun but refrained because his nephew, Walter, was still in the machine. Likewise, Deputies Nanni and Hansen had several opportunities to shoot the bandits during the early morning hours but refrained because of the possibility of hitting the filling station attendant hostage.

After escaping from the trap in the forest preserve where they lost their car, which contained extra ammunition purchased Tuesday in Beloit, the bandits made their way across fields to Seward. They awakened the operator at the exchange and telephoned to Rockford for a taxicab, explaining that their automobile had been wrecked. Before the cab driver, Will Eckman, arrived, however, the bandits saw the sheriff's squad car and ran back into the fields where they hid in the darkness as members of the posse scoured the neighborhood.

McKay told Kullberg he and Cox first met at the Vandavia prison farm and decided to escape because they didn't "like the food." After their flight from the prison farm they stole the Dodge sedan which was recovered at the forest preserve yesterday morning, and toured Indiana and the southern part of Illinois, finally returning to this part of the state.

Wanted to See Family.

McKay, who has been married for two years, said he is the father of two daughters, and it was his desire to see the members of his family before he fled the state for good that led him to go to Polo Monday night where the bandits had their first battle with authorities. He denied yesterday that he planned to kill his wife, although she asked police to guard her home after he had telephoned her that he wanted to see her.

Police Officer L. W. Cupp of Polo chased the bandit pair from Polo to Sterling Monday night and fired several shots into the rear of the machine. State police were stationed in Polo to guard Mrs. McKay's home later in the night and were also on guard Tuesday night when word was received that they had held up the Rockton filling station.

The Freeport filling station holdup was staged early Tuesday morning, after which the bandits went to South Beloit where they spent the night. They decided to rob the Rockton filling station before fleeing the state and then, after they had shaken off pursuit, yielded to the temptation to hold up McMahon.

This delay enabled Buchanan and Jecklin to catch up with them, and brought about their ultimate arrest yesterday morning.

McKay said "hard times" first caused him to get into difficulties. He forged an $800 check. He was sentenced in LaSalle county to serve a year at Vandavia last August. A year ago, in August, 1937, McKay was sentenced to a 90-day term in Vandavia on a forgery charge.

Early in August of this year McKay was arrested in Polo on a forgery charge, charged with passing a bad check at a Mendota furniture store. As he was being arraigned in LaSalle county court, he escaped from deputies. A few days later, a Dixon resident told Chief of Police J. D. VanBibber he knew where McKay was. The Dixon man said McKay would return voluntarily to the county jail at Ottawa but would not give himself up if he was to be taken to jail by a policeman. This was done and he surrendered Aug. 18, and was later taken to Vandavia.

Cox was serving a nine-months sentence on a chicken stealing charge. He said that the chicken theft charge was his first encounter with authorities.

When Cox was photographed yesterday morning he trembled like a leaf, while McKay appeared at ease and talked easily.

Both the Winnebago sheriff's office and police radio systems were utilized in spreading the alarm throughout northern Illinois after the Rockton holdup and kidnapping. It was over the police system that Sterling was notified of the bandit chase and sent reinforcements here from all parts of northern Illinois.

Greek fire was an incendiary composition of asphalt, saltpeter, and sulphur. It was used by the Byzantine Greeks, and would burn on or under water.

JUSTICE SHAW TO PRESIDE AT OCTOBER TERM

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 22.—(AP)—The validity of the Chicago police pension act is questioned in one of the 53 cases on which the Illinois Supreme Court may rule at its fall term opening October 4.

A suit to force payment of the maximum $30 monthly old age pension is another case on which the court may act. The public welfare department brought the appeal.

The coming term will mark the first time the court's full membership of seven justices has been filled since June, 1937. Justice Walter T. Gunn of Danville was sworn in after his election last June but has not appeared on the bench. Chief Justice Elwyn R. Shaw of Freeport will preside.

Other cases on which decisions may be handed down include those involving tax objections by railroads, sales tax collections, and validity of municipal ordinances.

An unusually large civil docket of 80 cases also awaits action of the court.

Petitions for rehearing include one seeking a review of the court's invalidation last June of the firemen's minimum wage law. Also before the court is the request of John Jelliga of Joliet for a stay of his death sentence. He is scheduled to die in the electric chair October 21 for the slaying December 9, 1937, of Edward Pansa, Will county farmer of near Crete.

AFTER 30-YEAR WAIT

HE SAW SKYSCRAPERS
Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—Lee Klinglesmith, who lives on a farm 50 miles away, had been wanting to get down to Louisville ever since his marriage 30-odd years ago but "things never shaped up just right" until after his 67th birthday.

After rounding up a heifer which had broken down the fence and got into the cornfield, Klinglesmith finally got away to see the city sights.

He was willing enough to take a ride on a street car but balked at an airplane.

"I told 'em," he explained, "I hadn't lost anything 'up there, and if I had, I didn't hanker to go up and look for it."

Swans, eagles, and crows have all been known to have a life span of more than a hundred years.

Ford Co Farmers Will be First to Receive Payments

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Ford county farmers probably will be the first in the state to receive payment for soil-building and crop-adjusting practices under the 1938 AAA farm program, it was announced today by members of the Illinois state agricultural conservation committee.

The first summaries of performance under this year's program to be checked into the state office were delivered by the Ford county agricultural conservation committee. Payments or these summaries, covering more than 160 farmers, are being computed. Applications for payment will be submitted to the cooperating farmers in the next few days.

If all procedures move smoothly, it is anticipated that first payments will be made soon after Oct. 15. Summaries from Ogle, Schuyler and Livingston counties are expected soon.

The amount of time necessary for the preparation of applications for payment has been reduced greatly this year.

Summaries from 25 percent of the farms requesting inspection in any county must be completed before any can be forwarded to the state office. This amount is necessary for an accurate estimate of the yearly expenses.

FBI AGENT WAS SPEAKER AT LEE BAR ASSN. MEET

Major W. H. Lester Told of Work of Bureau of Investigation

One of the finest meetings of the Lee County Bar Association since its organization was held yesterday afternoon and evening at the Dixon Country club. The event was attended by many attorneys from adjoining counties, who enjoyed the afternoon on the golf links and after the fine dinner, the exceptional program. Major W. H. Drane Lester of Washington, D. C., assistant to J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was the speaker of the evening and his talk proved highly interesting to the members of the legal profession, their ladies and guests.

"The biggest single business in America today is crime," the speaker emphasized in his opening. He divided his subject into three sections, starting with an explanation of the manner in which FBI agents are selected, the qualifications necessary, the investigation before acceptance, then the intensive period of training and regular instruction periods after becoming a member of the department.

The Federal operatives, who are more frequently referred to as G-Men, prefer to be known as FBI agents, these letters representing the agency, Federal Bureau of Investigation, and also standing for the ideals of the department, Fidelity, Bravery and Integrity.

685 Active Agents
The FBI, Major Lester explained, is composed of 685 agents distributed to 42 field offices in the United States. One of every 25,000 applicants for positions on the bureau is accepted and of the total present force 84 per cent are college graduates and of an average age of under 34 years.

"Contrary to a general belief, the FBI does not specialize in the front page type of crime, nor do the agents sit around waiting for a spectacular bank robbery or kidnaping case. They are continually active in the protection of the American citizen and his interests. Last year the department saved the government almost forty millions of dollars over and above the amount appropriated for its existence."

The second section of the talk was devoted to the art of finger printing.

Finger Printing Not New
"Finger printing," Major Lester stated, "is not something new. The Chinese used the finger print system 2,000 years ago in business operations, and one has only to read Mark Twain's book, 'Pudding Head Wilson', to find his reference to finger-printing 50 years ago. Finger printing today is the surest method of criminal identification. Photographs are not infallible in criminal detection and the Bertillon system has been found to have its flaws, yet the finger printing system is recognized in every court of the United States."

Over nine million sets of finger prints are filed in the department offices in Washington today, all being those of criminals or potential criminals, Major Lester stated. Finger prints, he explained, do not change from birth to death, the prints of twins are entirely different, heredity does not effect finger prints and prints cannot be altered. They serve to acquit the innocent as well as to convict the guilty. Copies of prints of criminals are exchanged with several foreign countries by the FBI, the speaker said, and almost one million prints are on file, being those of public spirited citizens who have adopted this method for purely personal identification purposes.

Referring to crime in the United States, Major Lester said:

Crime on Own Door Step
"Crime in the United States belongs right on our own door step and is not to be blamed upon the foreign-born of our land. Statistics show that a far greater percentage of crime exists among native born whites than among foreign born. Many preach the idea of closing our gates to the foreigner as a means of stamping out crime, but such is not true."

"The biggest single crime problem in the United States today is to be found among our own juveniles and don't let the sob sisters try to tell you otherwise. With this majority, the American home consists of a kitchen and bed room. What is the cause? You ask at once, then proceed to blame the press for flaunting headlines, the radio for its crime stories, and the movie for the crime pictures shown; our youth on the screen. What is the cure? you ask.

"Well, just as soon as you quit spending your nickel for the newspaper which carries the brilliant head line on the front page, the radio program which flaunts the deeds of criminals, the movie story woven around a crime condition, all of which place a halo around the head of the criminal, just that soon, will you begin to combat crime in this country. When the sales of the newspaper with the bold type and bright ink, flaunting the acts of the criminal to our youth on the front page, drops; when you enter your complaint to the Federal radio commission for permitting the recitation of weird crime events over the radio; when you cease to take junior to the movie show where built-up crime pictures are shown on the screen, then will you have done something about combatting juvenile crime. When you cease to subscribe to these three dangerous agencies, then you will have accomplished something.

Some Suggestions
"What is the remedy for this appalling condition among our juveniles of high school age? you ask. Something that I might suggest is that you be good parents, that in your homes you prescribe and require respect for law and order in the daily life of your youth, that they respect and honor their parents, their teachings and their homes. Then, if necessary, install in your school systems, if you not have already done so, a course in Americanism. If the home conditions fail, then the school has a responsibility, but both working together are bound to bring results.

"I believe that we expect altogether too much from our local law enforcement officers and agencies. At this point, I desire to announce to you that in your city and county law enforcement officers, have cooperated 100 per cent with the FBI. The department knows that your chief of police in your city and your sheriff in your county and their officers are, 'ready to do business.' Speedy punishments of the criminal in municipal, county and state courts is essential in the proper handling of the criminal. With the city, county and state officers working shoulder to shoulder with the FBI, crime is bound to decrease."

After his interesting talk, Major Lester answered many questions asked by the attorneys and their guests. He took occasion to endorse the Big Buddy Boys club movement which was launched in Dixon and is to become state wide, and similar agencies concerned in rescuing the youth with criminal tendencies, or upon his first violation, and thus prevent his becoming a criminal.

Byron News

Plans were completed Tuesday night for the Byron Grange Fall Festival, which will be held Saturday. Mrs. Florence Coffman is chairman. Merchants of Byron are co-operating with the grange in making arrangements for the festival. Exhibits of various produce will be displayed in store windows and prizes will be given. There will be a parade at 10 o'clock A. M., a flower show and lunch stands on the business square. There will be a free program of musical selections and a short play presented on the street in the evening.

At a meeting of the high school band last week, the following officers were elected: Margie Gunkler, president; Mary Yost, vice president; Darlene Null, secretary-treasurer; Frances Brady, librarian; and Marshall Miller, manager. Uniforms will be purchased for the band this year and a Band Mothers' club will be organized.

Geraldine Greene has been chosen as accompanist for the high school mixed chorus which has 35 members.

Dr. Steketee has sold his dental equipment and practice to Dr. W. F. Micheaux of Chicago, who will take possession of the latter part of this month. Dr. Steketee will spend some time visiting his parents in Holland, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Meir who have been visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Welty returned to their home in DeKalb last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holdorf have purchased the Louis Corfman residence in the east end of town. Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Noyes will reside there.

Miss Arlyn Adams has returned to her studies at DeKalb.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kush and sons Billie and Dickie were afternoon and evening visitors Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nishwonger and family.

Art Hogan is attending the National American Legion convention in Los Angeles this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen and son, Robert, of Cresline, Cal., will spend two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen in Byron.

The first football game of the season will be played at Byron Friday, Byron vs. Kings.

The Altar and Rosary society will give a dance at Wagner's hall some time in November.

DOG KEEPS GOING ROUND AND ROUND

Omaha, Neb.—(AP)—Dan Griffin's little black dog keeps going around and around to the left faster and faster until it has to rest so it can go around again.

Unless the dog is tied up it spends its waking hours going around. It starts slowly and picks up speed until it makes 50 revolutions a minute. And it keeps this up for several minutes, then rests and starts again.

The only explanation advanced is that the dog has a "mental quirk."

The eggs of insects follow hundreds of intricate designs.

Fifteen Cubs Awarded Pins at Polo Meeting

Fifteen Cubs of Pack 331 of Polo were awarded their Wolf pins at a very interesting Cub-Parent meeting last evening in the activity room of the Presbyterian church. The 15 Cubs had completed all of the achievements for Wolf rank and after appearing before the achievement council had their emblems pinned on by their mothers who received them from Ralph Reed who is a member of the Pack committee.

Fifty Cubs, parents, leaders and friends enjoyed a very fine scramble supper and social hour together preceding the installation and achievement ceremonies. Rev. Richard P. Graebel, chairman of the Jack committee presided and called on A. A. Stocker, Scout executive of the Blackhawk Area Council to present the Pack charter to Mrs. Stenmark, President of the Polo Woman's club. The Woman's club is the institution that sponsors Cubbing for Polo boys. Mr. Graebel, Ralph Reed, O. L. Thomas and Lloyd Lovell were installed as Pack committee members and Den Dads. Mrs. Knapp, Mrs. French and Mrs. Buck were presented Den Mothers' certificates by Mrs. Stenmark. Kenneth White was installed as Cubmaster and took charge of the installation of the Cub Pack which includes 20 members. The newest member of the Pack joined at the meeting last evening; his name Dick Zivney.

It was decided that regular monthly meetings of the Cubs and their parents were to be held from now on. Parents of new nine year old boys of Polo are invited to attend these meetings with their boys and have them register with the Pack.

W. R. C. CONVENTION

The Thirtieth district convention of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held in Savanna, Saturday. The convention will be held at the Lincoln school gymnasium opening at 9 o'clock and continuing through the day. At noon, a luncheon will be served at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. The district includes 17 corps in Ogle, Lee, Stephenson, Carroll, LaSalle, and Whiteside counties. State and district officers will be present and nearly 300 members will attend. The Savanna corps will be inspected during the convention.

Mrs. George Galar, president of the Polo corps, No. 104, will be assistant conductor at the convention. All Polo members are urged to attend. For transportation, meet at the W. R. C. hall, Saturday morning at 8 A. M.

GOOD PUMP AND EXPERT PUMPER NATIONAL NEED

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Applying farm imagery to the practice of economic "pump priming," Fred H. Clausen, vice president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, declared today "if you would draw water from the well to furnish sustenance to our people, do not depend on a leaky pump, but thaw out the ice of excessive government exactions and send those to the well who know how to pump."

Clausen, a Horicon, Wis., manufacturer, told the National Hardware Lumber Association in a prepared address that the "liabilities" created by the government "make work" spending program were greater than the benefits they bestowed upon the country. He continued:

"A $30,000 plant giving employment to a few men in a productive enterprise, with prospective growth from earnings, is more valuable to the future welfare of the country than any $2,000,000 public building erected in the name of PWA."

He asserted the administration's "policy of taxing and borrowing to put men to work and build for social betterment is the easiest way but not the right way."

"As a method of creating permanent jobs for idle men in private industry and securing stable prosperity it cannot work because it consumes the body it feeds upon. It knocks the props out from under the pillars that are relied upon to support it."

Legion Will Meet in Chicago in '39

Los Angeles, Sept. 22.—(AP)—A farewell with a promise of reunion next year in Chicago was given by thousands of Legionnaires today as they began their exodus from their 1938 convention city.

Although the business sessions of the convention continued today with election of officers, the main body of Legionnaires already was leaving.

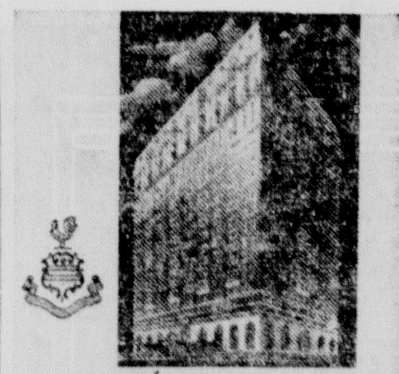

As an anti-climax to the organization's gathering, the United States fleet will go on review tomorrow.

Election of Stephen F. Chadwick of Seattle, Wash., as national commander will be a formality today.

In outlining its policy for the coming year at yesterday's business session, the Legion went on record as favoring a larger army, a navy second to none and expressed itself as unalterably opposed to a referendum on war.

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON

We've started to work on the list of guest pickers—those fellows game enough to stick out their chins with some football predictions in the weeks to come. Jim O'Malley of the Telegraph did a bang-up job last season of which he is still a little proud. To him falls the doubtful honor of kicking-off on the picks. It's no easy matter at the start of the year to decide who is who in the football world, but Jim isn't worried and will start things off on Oct. 1. Jack Erdlen, another Telegrapher who had success last year, will follow on Oct. 8—a date he picked himself. Others who have agreed to tackle the ticklish job are Coach Lindell of the high school on Oct. 29; Bert Cummings of baseball fame on Oct. 22 and Charlie Roundy, Alumni pilot, on Nov. 12. Two more will be selected and this department will wind up on Nov. 19 by taking its chances.

The Dixon high school athletic staff has announced that tickets are now ready for the Rockford game tomorrow night and may be purchased at the school. The price of the tickets takes a jump at the gate at 15th Avenue stadium and penny-wise fans will get theirs here. No reservations will be accepted by phone.

The Lee County Bar association offered a blind bogey event at the Dixon Country club yesterday afternoon as part of the entertainment of the visiting lawyers. Gerald Frearer of Oregon hit the score right on the nose with 83. Major W. H. Drane Lester of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington and the speaker of the evening, was second with first score under the blind bogey. He totaled 81. Judge Leon Zick of Oregon was third with the first over with a score of 84. Ten attorneys tied off.

About 28 Boy Scouts from Troop 89 with their scoutmaster, Ken Abbott, will attend the Illinois-Ohio University game at Urbana Saturday afternoon. A cavalcade of motor cars will leave town at the crack of dawn. This is the annual Scout Day at the university and Scouters are guests of the school.

Dixon fans look to two young athletes attending Big Ten schools for the first year to make a name for themselves in the coming seasons. Gerald Ankeny who is attending the University of Iowa, is expected to enlarge the successes he chalked up in Dixon. Don Miller is up Badger-way and should be valuable to the Wisconsin teams.

Charlie Roundy's Alumni gang will begin toughening up for the battle with the Dixon regulars on Oct. 21. The Alumni game has been set for Friday afternoon, Oct. 21, and Roundy will use the three Sundays before that date for practice. Workouts will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning and at the athletic practice field at the high school. Eligible candidates are urged to be on hand.

Among the week-end schedules of football in these parts are included the following rumbles: LaSalle-Peru "B" at Rochelle, Freeport "B" at Mount Morris and Polo at Mount Carroll—all tomorrow night. Tomorrow afternoon Mendota plays at Amboy. Saturday Winnebago plays Oregon on the Mt. Morris field Morrison plays at Sterling. Not to be forgotten is the important event tomorrow night when Dixon plays Rockford at Beyer field, the light-weight game to start at 6:00 o'clock.

New foes are to be given to 36 Dixon gridders and the boys will appear all fancied-up in the latest football styles tomorrow night at Rockford.

The football game between the Dixon and Rockford heavyweights will be broadcast tomorrow night from a Rockford station. The main event is set to follow the game between the two reserve teams and will start about 8 o'clock.

WHIZZER WHITE FINDS PROS ARE TOUGH HANDLERS

Colorado University Star Is Honored at Banquet Last Evening

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—You may add Byron "Whizzer" White to the list of those college football immortals who have discovered to their own satisfaction that the professional game is tougher in every way than the ivy variety.

After only three games in the backfield for the Pittsburgh Pirates White admits he already is sporting more bruises than he collected during three seasons of starring for Colorado university. He was honored at a slight banquet here last night, the attendance being curtailed by the fact that taxis practically were floating through the streets.

"I've already felt enough to know there's a lot of difference in the two games," said the All-American guest. "One of these fellows seems to hit me as hard as three of them did in college. Another thing, the going is hard every minute of a professional game. There doesn't seem to be a minute you can let up and catch your breath without getting scored on."

Glad of Decision Despite this small complaint, the Whizzer is glad of his decision to get in one season of money football before reporting at Oxford university in January. The money, he admits, will come in handy while he spends three years digging for a law degree.

"He's a great player," volunteered Coach Johnny Blood of the Pirates. "And he's going to get better. It takes some time to learn the little differences of the pro game, but Byron already is right up there with the leaders in every department."

White and his companions are due to play the Brooklyn Eagles Friday night if the water is less than a foot deep at Ebbsfeld field. It will be his first appearance here in the sport that made him famous, though he played some eye catching basketball here last winter.

"No, I don't miss the rooting section of the college games," he said. "As a matter of fact I find it a better idea of how I'm playing from the professional crowds. When they boo I know I ought to try a little harder on the next play. Maybe that's why all these fellows play so hard all the time."

Other workmen were severely injured and the half-ton door to the safe was blown in two and tossed 15 feet.

Pittsburgh Floating to Pennant Sunshine Hasn't Hit Dixon's Football Camp

DIXON COACHES GIVE LINE-UPS FOR TWO TILTS

Heavyweights, Reserves To Face Strong Teams At Rockford

The sun came out yesterday and to prove it can be done, is with us again today, but thus far its cheery brightness hasn't penetrated the Dixon high school football camp where things still remain somewhat gloomy on the eve of the beef-toss with Rockford.

Optimistic questions fired at the coaching staff failed to strike any chord of hope from either Clem Lindell or Marv Wingert last night as they surveyed the field and shook their heads. The Dixon fellows will be in there with all they have, and are sure to make it tough for the Reds, but experience and weight can't be bucked any too easily with a string of lightweights just learning the feel of pigskin.

Referring to the line, Lindell remarked that it is good, all right, but has been better in other years. "With a strong backfield to follow up, the line would be even better," he ventured.

Average Weight
The average weight in the line runs around 180—which isn't so bad, but a light backfield with an average of 150 runs the balance. The local eleven is still lacking in good kicking and Page is pretty much overworked in that capacity.

The team did a little work out scrimmage with LaSalle-Peru on Tuesday night and the passing of Bevilacqua to Page clicked in good shape, often for at least 25 yards.

In the buck against the LaSalle-Peru boys both Page and Bevilacqua were roughed-up a little and slightly injured. Bevilacqua was hurt on Monday night and Tuesday's affair increased the injury. With a handicapped knee the Nelson boy may be kept from the starting line-up tomorrow night and Reese put in his place.

After the bouncing around with LaSalle-Peru team Coach Lindell gave his team only a light work out last night and no scrimmage was held.

Probable Line-Ups
The Dixon mentor has announced some changes in the line-up for tomorrow night in contrast to the one used for the Rock Falls game last Saturday. There is a possibility that Bush may be sent in to replace Page at left end if Page is used at right half. Because of injuries Reese may be used at left halfback instead of Bevilacqua. The possible starting line-up, complete, appears to be:

Page or Bush, LE; Rinehart, LT; Christos, LG; Nicklaus, C; Swan, RG; Palmer, RT; Youngmark, RE; Moore, QB; Richards, FB; Bevilacqua or Reese, LH; Page or Mansch, RH.

In the camp of Marv Wingert, coach of the lightweights, things are still gloomier. The coach has a long list of fellows who are playing football for the first time and he lost all his better candidates to Lindell to replace the losses of last season in the varsity squad. The probable line-up of reserves for tomorrow night will include:

L. E. Wieman or Ashford; LT: Travis or Vaessen; LG: Sanford or Rhodes; C: Gehant or Valle; RG: Dennison or Eastman; RT: Shiras or Handell; RE: Emmert or Gearhart; QB: Ketchner or Slothower; FB: Crawford or Buggs; LH: Reese or Walders; RH: Williams or Lee.

Nine of 10 Rockford high school heavyweight veterans left from an original group of 13 hold-over lettermen pared by ineligibility will start against the Dixon eleven as the Reds open their season. Six of Coach Spurgeon's probable starters were regulars on last year's Big Seven conference championship team, while three others served as varsity replacements.

Marathon Golfer Ready for Grind Across Country

Los Angeles, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Marathon Golfer J. Smith Ferebee of Chicago said today he was "ready" to begin a proposed cross-country golf grind during which he hopes to play 600 holes in four days over courses in eight cities. His campaign—designed "to end all golf marathons"—calls for 72 holes or more here Sunday morning, 72 holes at Phoenix, Ariz., Sunday afternoon, 72 the next morning in Kansas City, 72 that afternoon in St. Louis, 72 Tuesday morning in Milwaukee, 72 that afternoon over his home course at Chicago, 72 holes Wednesday morning in Philadelphia and 72 or more at the World's Fair grounds course in New York Wednesday afternoon.

Amby Schindler

Although it is not literally true, it can be said that to a certain extent, as goes Ambrose Schindler, above, so goes the University of Southern California football team. And as goes Amby Schindler's knee, recently operated on, so goes the Trojan quarterback. He'll undoubtedly be heard from in the Alabama game in Los Angeles, Saturday.

LOOKS LIKE A TWO-GAL SHOW IN GOLF OPEN

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—A miss and a matron, with contrasting personalities seemed destined today to turn the battle for the National women's golf championship into a strictly two gal show.

They are Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, 31-year old housewife, of Chapel Hill, N. C., defending champion, and her most feared challenger, Patty Berg of Minneapolis. Both displayed ability to meet any dangerous situation in winning their second and third rounds yesterday. Mrs. Page swept aside Helen Waterhouse of Warwick, R. I., two and one, and then turned in a four and three victory over Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex.

It remained for Miss Berg, outstanding woman golfer figure of the year, with nine triumphs in twelve tournaments, to stage a dramatic rally that thrilled a gallery of hundreds. She conquered Eva Shorb, a 20-year old blonde coed of Massillon, Ohio.

After advancing to the third round with a four and three victory over Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., Patty encountered the slender Ohioan. At the end of the first nine holes, Patty was four down.

Suddenly regaining her putting form, Patty started sweeping birdies and pars all over the course on the back nine. She won the 10th in par, and the 11th and 12th on birdies to be only one down. She took the 15th in par to even the count. At the 17th she bounced into the lead, one up, and stayed there. She had overcome a tremendous handicap that will not soon be forgotten.

The marvelous miss from Minneapolis promises to explode the fireworks again against husky Dorothy Traung of San Francisco, co. in what probably will be the best of the afternoon's quarter final contests. Mrs. Page meets Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, Tex., while Miss Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., Curtis Cup star and 1936 semi-finalist engages Marian McDougall of Portland, Ore., 1934 western open winner.

Seating Problems Face the Pirates

Pittsburgh, Sept. 22.—(AP)—A knotty problem in mathematics—how to divide 33,000 available reserved seats for the World Series by 155,000 applications—confronted weary attaches of the Pittsburgh baseball club today.

A deluge of mail, almost half bearing out-of-town postmarks, rolled in after the Pirate front office announced applications would be accepted.

Associated Press Sports Writer
"Noah" Traynor, chosen of the baseball gods, sent his doves out again today to see if the floods had subsided. But, frankly, he didn't care much.

His Pittsburgh Pirates "ark" was the one boat afloat the rains couldn't hurt. Even if it kept raining the figurative 40 days and 40 nights until the National League season ends, "Noah" and the collection of diamond life he has on the ark would bounce onto the World Series "Ararat" anyway.

All in all, you couldn't blame Traynor much if he just sat and prayed for rain to last until the Oct. 2 finale, and then continue right on through the month after that. Don't forget, after the pennant chase is over, his boys—if they win—still have the Yankees coming up.

Such other scows and barges as those on which the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds are riding have had huge holes knocked into them by the downpour. Every game rained out in the first division this week—and there has been a record number of 14 of them—can be marked down in the Bucs' victory column, for if they don't play they can't lose.

Cubs and Reds Are Victims.
When the second-place Cubs and third-place Reds, 3 1/2 and 5 games back, respectively, are the victims, they can't win—and so have no chance to catch up with the Pirates. Remember, too, that the Bucs had two of their toughest eastern games washed off the schedule entirely—with the Daffidodgers, who have raised more hob with the pace setters this season than any other outfit.

As matters now stand, the Pirates can play 500 ball in their 12 remaining games and still be fairly sure of grabbing the pennant, for in that case the Cubs would have to click for over .800 per cent in 13 remaining starts. Even if the Cubs don't lose another game, the Bucs can still afford to drop three of 12. Here's the picture:

Club	W	L	Pct.
Pittsburgh	81	57	.587
Cincinnati	78	61	.561 3/4
Cleveland	76	62	.551 1/2
New York	75	64	.540 6/11

Keep Fingers Crossed.
All the folks concerned kept their fingers crossed today in the hope old Jupe Pluvius would finally be a good guy again and let them get a game or two out of the way. There's been only one National League tilt since Sunday, and that one saw Fail the Duffy Dean, in his second comeback start for the Cardinals, pitch a seven-hitter to blank the Boston Bees, 4-0, yesterday. Ducky Medwick drove in all the runs.

The Yankees, who have been more chumps than champs since they sewed up the American League pennant, stretched their losing streak to six games in kicking away a 5-2 decision to the Chicago White Sox. Three errors gave the Sox their runs (all unearned.)

Hank Greenberg remained three games in front of Babe Ruth's record 1927 home run pace by clouting his No. 54 for the year as the Tigers triumphed the Athletics twice, 8-6 and 3-0. Jimmy Fox's 47th four-bagger paced the Boston Red Sox to an 8-4 margin over the Browns in the only other game that wasn't rained out.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 22.—(AP)—The United States Lawn Tennis association, with an eye on the weather man, will play off the remaining semi-final matches of the national singles tournament tomorrow after five straight postponements from rain, a record for the tourney.

Alice Marble and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabry of Boston will meet in the other semi-final for the right to meet her for the title.

The men's semi-finalists are Don Budge and Sidney E. Wood, Jr., and Jack Bromwich of Australia and Gene Maiko, Budge's doubles partner.

Canoe Trip

By BUELL PATTERSON.

When the urge hits you to paddle your own canoe and glide through the wilds over the waters of lakes and streams let the time be the fall of the year. Autumn is the best time for a camping trip of any kind. The cool, crisp nights kill off the pesky insects that make summer and spring camping an aerial bombing season for mosquitoes and worse. In the fall nature is giving the bugs the cold shoulder and man gets a break.

Fishing At Its Best.
Fishing is fit for a king in the fall with the cooling waters adding zest to the strikes of game fish and whetting their appetites. The pestiferous weeds begin to die and ambitious anglers can send out a lure that isn't weedless and have some chance of reeling in without bringing in any fresh water salads.

It's great just to get out on a lake or stream in September or October, but if you have an eye for beauty you will get it full from viewing the multi-colored foliage along the shores. The first frosts begin to turn the leaves into every color imaginable. The oaks take on a deep red, the birches are bright yellow, the maples are a flaming, brighter red. Green pines add a touch of color which blends with the whole. Nature is a great painter.

Camp Conditions More Pleasant.
The woods are not so damp in the fall as in the spring, and it is a sight easier to find plenty of good fire wood. It is more comfortable to sleep on the drier ground. There is a snappy zip in the air that stirs the blood and makes you feel fit and keen. The wilds are in better shape for the camper.

The one danger is fire and most campers are now careful and educated in keeping this hazard down so that it is no longer the terror it once was. Numerous fire wardens are on watch to nip any danger from fire in the bud and stop most fires before they get a running start. Educational signs are plentiful, warning all to use caution so that there is little excuse for devastating forest fires today.

After a day of paddling the clear nights with their millions of stars and the flashing northern lights make a setting for rest and complete relaxation which is hard to the much less beat. Your skill need not be great as an astronomer to make you get a kick out of a fall night in the wilds. The Indians camped and practically lived out of doors most of their lives and weren't dumb at all. Whoever started calling those great fall days Indian summer was paying a tribute to the days and the Indians, both of which deserve the tribute.

Ideal Vacation Time.
If you are one of those hard working souls who hasn't yet taken a vacation, don't feel sorry for yourself if you can get away this autumn. You will be a lucky one and won't be telling of mosquitoes as big as eagles, sunburn that nearly wrecked you, poison ivy that smacked you, hot breathless nights, no fish striking, crowds of tourists, sour cream in your coffee. You'll be thriving, resting, getting fish, seeing game an eating your head off. The autumn will take a fall out of that tired feeling any time. A canoe trip will do the business.

WISCONSIN PILOT SHAKES HIS FIST AT WEATHER MAN

Badgers Face Strong Foes In a Retarded State of Toughening

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—It's Harry Stuhldreher's football philosophy to "play 'em one at a time," but today he was about ready to admit his University of Wisconsin Badgers had a tough and immediate foe in the weather.

Another scrimmage for his three teams was scheduled for this afternoon. The second and third teams went through a long scrimmage yesterday. And more rigorous work was in prospect both before and after the practice game with the freshmen Saturday.

The reason, when most Big Ten teams were easing up a little in their workouts?

"We're worse today than when we started practice Sept. 10," That was the explanation by the former member of Notre Dame's Four Horsemen.

Rain has retarded the Badgers' conditioning, preventing them from toughening up.

First Game Oct. 1
And they need to toughen up for a schedule which opens Oct. 1 with Marquette as the Madison visitors. A schedule that includes among non-conference games U. C. L. A. and a team which has been touted as about perfect—Pittsburgh.

Rain also has brought a heavier-than-average crop of injuries—chiefly pulled muscles from the sloshy footing.

But the Badgers have experience in their first lineup which should be a big plus mark in pre-season experting. Only one sophomore has been slated for a starting berth—Gordon Gale, left end from Milwaukee.

Rest of the Team
The rest of the first team, three juniors and seven seniors, are: right end, Bob Weigandt, Oshkosh; tackles, Bob Eckle, Milwaukee, and Gene Brodhagen, Bonduel; guards, Lynn Hovland, Bloomer, and John O'Brien, Rice Lake; center, Jack Murray, Plymouth, Pa.; quarterback, Vincent Gavre, Port Edwards; halves, Bill Schmitz, Madison, and Roy Bellin, Milwaukee; fullback, Howard Weiss, Fort Atkinson.

Fundamentals occupied the attention yesterday of most Big Ten coaches, notably at Northwestern, Illinois, Chicago, Indiana and Michigan. Scrimmages topped the day at Purdue and Ohio State. Minnesota stressed running plays and passing while Iowa worked in secret through a signal drill for spectators.

Puddles Hold Up Rich Golf Round
New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The field of 275 crack golfers gathered for the rich 108-hole Westchester tournament will have to wait until tomorrow to start pursuit of the $13,500 purse.

The torrential rains yesterday left large puddles of water on the greens and in the traps and officials decided it would require at least a full day of sunshine to make the Fenway club course playable for championship golf.

The field will be divided, one half playing 18 holes Friday, the other playing 18 Saturday.

The low 150 scorers play another 18 holes Sunday and the low 75 play 36 holes Monday after which the low 60 play 36 holes Tuesday.

Colonel Blood, who stole the royal crown of England in 1671, not only was pardoned for the theft but was granted a $2500 annual pension by King Charles II.

OPERATION AND CHILD CAME CLOSE TOGETHER
Taylorville, Ill.—(AP)—Local doctors, expressed amazement when Mrs. Joseph Strickland gave birth to a daughter three days after an appendectomy. They said cases of normal birth so soon after an operation are extremely rare.

Mother and babe were reported "doing well."

Dolls are the oldest toys known. They have been used in all lands from the earliest times. One found in an Egyptian tomb is estimated to be at least 4000 years old.

Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up by AP Writer

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Bill McKenchie is pinning the flag hopes of his hot and cold Cincinnati Reds to the seven games coming up with the Pirates. . . . ANSWER: In some portions of the earth the Ice Age has not ended yet. The polar regions are still covered with the ice cap of that ancient formation. A study made in Minnesota indicates that the ice retreated from that state about 10 to 16 thousand years ago.
